Response:

Best Practice 1

Title: Participation of Students in Community Welfare Activities through NSS

Objectives:

- Understanding neighbourhood needs and issues by enlisting students as NSS volunteers.
- To awaken students' social ethics and give them an opportunity to work alongside others.

An NSS volunteer is expected to get in touch with the neighbourhood frequently. The vibrant NSS unit at Moirabari College provides an opportunity for motivated students to engage in social work outside of their normal lectures. Instead of wasting time in numerous locations, it is crucial to select at least one village in the immediate vicinity to ensure that NSS programmes are carried out successfully. It is of utmost importance to mention that the NSS wing of the college has adopted a village in its nighbourhood-namely Barchapari, and has been working tirelessly for the all round development of the village since its adoption. Accurately identifying both the problems and the opportunities that exist within the adopted village will substantially benefit in the efficient use of the community's resources and the accurate planning for its future development. The primary target of the NSS has been on improving the health, educational and environmental scenario of the village. Besides, by offering various services, such as awareness campaigns on domestic abuse, the harmful effects of cigarettes, AIDS awareness, the prohibition on single-use plastics, the Swachh Abhiyan, etc., volunteers extend their services to the neighbourhood community and society. The victims of the frequent severe floods in Morigaon received a lot of assistance. Red Ribbon Club and other organisations collaborate to organise voluntary blood donation camps. Old age institutions, blind schools, orphans, etc. are regularly visited. The most significant efforts undertaken during the COVID period included the distribution of food, medicine, and other necessities, including Covid-19 protection kits. Hand sanitizers that have been provided for use against the COVID-19 pandemic were distributed in the adopted villages. Both the neighbourhood and the college campus often hold cleanliness actions. The NSS has been working on this programme for the past years to raise awareness on the necessity of having a clean and green surrounding. Other NSS projects that deserve special notice include providing relief supplies in the event of natural disasters, hosting health and hygiene-related seminars, visiting blind schools, orphanages, and old people's homes, helping out the destitute and underprivileged street children, and more. Additionally, they tell residents of the adopted villages about various government initiatives.

The Results:

- The desire for the girl students to join the NSS is growing. A college situated in a rural area like ours seldom achieves something like this.

- With regard to their personality development, civic responsibility, and volunteerism, volunteers exhibit significant change.
- The target population greatly benefits through conducting social schemes and spreading awareness of the government's different objectives and policies.
- The target community is exhibiting signs of improvement in several aspects of their lives.

The Obstacles

An issue that arises is persuading the communities to implement new initiatives and programmes in the area. Adults in the villages are found to be the ones who are least interested in such programmes. As they only receive a small stipend, sometimes money and equipment are obstacles. Other constraints include problems with management, inadequate training, scarce resources, etc. Prior to visiting the NSS camp, a lot of counseling has to be done.

BEST PRACTICE 2

Title: Dedication Towards Green Initiatives

The Objective: Through its devoted support towards green activities, Moirabari College is dedicated to preserving and protecting the environment for a healthy ecosystem.

- It strives towards maintaining an environmentally pleasant campus, instill the concept of sustainable development in the young people's thoughts, particularly to its students, and prepare them to preserve resources for a safe and healthy environment.
- To acknowledge the grassroots efforts of individuals in the preservation and protection of the environment and biodiversity.

The Context:

All sectors are currently attempting to incorporate green initiatives into their daily operations. Utilising eco-friendly, environmentally safe and sustainable methods and alternatives, green projects seek to protect and enhance the environment. Moirabari College effectively develops and carries out its green activities with this goal in mind. In addition, there are a lot of private individuals doing generous work at the grassroots level to promote environmental conservation. The obligation and duty of society is to give these invisible workers the respect they deserve.

Practice 2:

Green Campus initiatives of the College Include:

- Segregation of biodegradable and non-biodegradable and hazardous waste emanating from the college and disposing them off at separate locations.
- Carrying out plantation drives on day of importance like World Environment Day, College Foundation day, etc.
- Promotion of rain water harvesting and recycling of waste water.

- Promoting clean-up and plantation drives in the college as well as some other locations in the neighbourhood.
- Ban on single use plastics
- Formulation of the Green Protocol and conduct of Green energy audit etc.

The College's off-campus Green Activities Include:

- Under the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, NSS volunteers regularly conduct cleaning campaigns both on the college campus and in the vicinity.
- In cooperation with the local authority, plantation drives, sapling distribution, initiatives to restrict single-use plastics, etc. are regularly organised.
- The NSS volunteers have been working with local volunteer groups and alumni association members to raise awareness about the need to preserve Patekibori Than, the birthplace of Srimanta Sankardeva, historical heritage.
- Lecture programs are arranged, art competitions, and plantation campaigns are organised every year on World Environment Day.

The Results

The college's environmentally conscious initiatives have won accolades from a number of its stakeholders, students, alumni, media, and forest department. The audio and visual media at the local and state levels gave our activities extensive coverage. The College campus remains clean and green. The environmental health is also showing signs of improvement in areas that it has undertaken plantation drives.

HIGHLIGHTS OF SOME OF THE IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES UNDERTAKEN BY THE NSS WING OF THE COLLEGE IN THE LAST FIVE YEARS

The NSS wing of the college is run by Mr. Abdul Goni, a young, dedicated, and energetic Assistant Professor, Department of Arabic. Since his appointment as the Programme Officer, NSS, Mr. Goni has been working tirelessly, thus making the organisation vibrant and active. The organisation under his able leadership has been working for the overall development of the college. The NSS has been carrying out various social welfare measures in the neighbourhood. Besides, it has also been organising awareness programmes on issues pertaining to the society. Most of the co-curricular activities of the college are carried out by the NSS. It is important to mention that a majority of its members are girls.
